

ANOTHER BATTLE.

Battleship Retvizan and Shore Batteries Opened Fire on the Japanese Torpedo Boats.

APPARENTLY NO DAMAGE DONE.

The Attempt to Bottle Up the Russian Fleet at Port Arthur Was a Failure.

The Stone-Laden Steamers Were Sunk By the Russian Fire Before Reaching the Points Planned For Their Foundering.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—A dispatch received here from Port Arthur dated February 26 says:

"At 1 o'clock this morning several Japanese torpedo boats were sighted from here with their sails set for the purpose of disguising their character. The battleship Retvizan and the shore batteries opened fire on them and continued firing until daybreak without any visible result. After daybreak a Japanese squadron, apparently conveying transports, was sighted. At a quarter past 11 this squadron came nearer and an engagement which lasted 40 minutes ensued. There was no damage. Few shells fell in Port Arthur."

It is expected here that the Japanese will attempt a landing soon.

An inspection of the Japanese ships sent into this harbor February 24 shows they were loaded with coal and kerosene and that electrical infernal machines had been placed in the midst of this cargo.

The Sunken Ships.

Tokio, Feb. 27.—Vice Adm. Togo's attempt to bottle up the Russian fleet at Port Arthur by sinking a fleet of stone-laden merchant steamers in the mouth of the harbor evidently failed, though the venture caused no loss of life and the vessels lost were not of great value.

Five ships were prepared by Vice Adm. Togo for the attempted blockade. Four are reported to have been sunk, but the fate of the fifth is unknown here. It is presumed that it withdrew with the other Japanese vessels. The five vessels, were manned by volunteer merchant crews. It was impossible to select naval officers and sailors on account of their great rivalry to participate in the daring venture.

Accompanied by four battleships, nine cruisers and numerous vessels of the torpedo flotilla, the stone-laden steamers reached Port Arthur on Wednesday. While the fleet engaged the shore batteries, the steamers made a dash for the mouth of the harbor directly under the Russian guns.

Details of the attack have not been received, but it is evident that the Russian's fire sank the steamers before they reached the points planned for their foundering by the Japanese. It is said that all of the crews of the four vessels escaped in boats and were picked up by the Japanese boat destroyers. The report that two of the torpedo boat destroyers were sunk by the Russians is denied.

No Lives Were Lost.

The naval department has received a brief dispatch from the commander of one of the torpedo boat destroyers saying that no lives and no warships were lost and that no damage was inflicted by the Russians. Pending the receipt of the official report of Vice Adm. Togo, the naval department declines to make any announcements regarding the affair.

Seoul, Feb. 27.—The Korean government has decided to order the Korean troops to join the Japanese in the field. The port of Wiju was opened to foreign trade Thursday night.

The limitations to be placed on trade and other incidental matters will be passed later. This action necessitates a harbor, so Yengampo has been decided upon.

PORT DALNY.

It is Reported That the Russians Have Evacuated the Place.

London, Feb. 27.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Telegraph has sent in interesting news of Japanese military operations. He asserts that Port Dalny is being evacuated by the Russians, who boast that they have mined the breakwater, wharves and railroad sidings there in order to prevent the Japanese from making use of these facilities. This correspondent repeats that the Russians have only supplies for five months at Port Arthur, and says that a large number of Japanese transports have returned to Nagasaki, where they are busily engaged in embarking more troops to be taken to the vicinity of Port Dalny. Over 40 transports have left Nagasaki since February 10, and a still larger embarkation has been proceeding from Ujina, near Hiroshima, on the inland sea. Ujini, and not Kioto, the correspondent concludes, will be the army and navy headquarters during the war.

This correspondent has recently been in Nagasaki and is probably well informed. In any event, it is taken for granted in London that Adm. Togo's recent operations have been devoted to facilitate Japanese debarkation on Lia Tung gulf or elsewhere.

PRESSFEEDERS FINED.

They Violated An Injunction of the Chicago Court.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Friday for the second time Judge Jesse Holdom fined Franklin Union of Pressfeeders $1,000 for a violation of an injunction of the court. The injunction was obtained by the Chicago Typothetae, which charged the Franklin union with interference with non-union employees. Besides fining the union as a body Judge Holdom Friday fined President Weiner, of that organization, $150 in addition to a jail sentence of six months. Secretary J. M. Shea was fined $100 and sentenced to six months in jail. Jerome Collins and Harry Brown, members of the union, were given short jail sentences.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

It Passed the House After Being Under Consideration For a Week.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Senate—The senate Friday considered at some length the bill requiring the use of American ships in carrying government supplies, but without action adjourned for want of a quorum. The bill was criticized by democratic senators as being in the nature of a subsidy, but Mr. Hale, who was in charge of the measure, defended it against this attack and championed it in the interest of American shipping. Early in the day an agreement was reached to take up on Monday next the bill authorizing the erection of a joint building for the departments of state, justice and commerce, and to devote Thursday to legislation in the interest of Alaska.

House—The house passed the naval appropriation bill after having it under consideration for a week. There was a party contest on a number of propositions during the day, especially on an effort of different minority members to secure an amendment to fix the price of armor plate at the figure bid by the Midvale Steel Co. Several amendments were ruled out on points of order, and the republican leaders, by skilful parliamentary tactics, left the matter of armor plate in the discretion of the secretary of the navy. An ineffectual attempt was made to have the eight-hour law applied to all ship construction. The contest over submarine boats was quite exciting and an amendment finally was adopted which leaves the question of the type of boat open but increases the amount of the appropriation for such boats.

Kiel, Feb. 27.—Prince Henry, son of Prince Henry of Prussia, died Friday. The little prince had been unconscious for some days, as the result of injuries received in a fall while playing in the nursery several weeks ago. CONSPIRACY TRIAL

Machen, Lorenz and the Two Groffs Found Guilty as Indicted by the Court.

THE JURY WAS OUT NINE HOURS.

When the Verdict Was Announced the Four Defendants and Their Counsel Seemed Appalled.

Ball Was Furnished For the Convicted Men, the Sureties Being the Same as On the Bonds Prior to Conviction.

Washington, Feb. 27.—"Guilty as indicted" was the verdict announced by Carl Peterson, the foreman of the jury in the now famous post office conspiracy trial, shortly after 8 o'clock Friday night, stating at the same time that this was the verdict as to all four defendants, August W. Machen, late general superintendent of the rural free delivery division; George E. Lorenz, of Toledo, O., and Samuel A. and Diller B. Groff, of this city. The jury had been out nine hours, although the verdict was reached in eight hours and twenty-five minutes. Justice Pritchard had gone to his home, there to await any summons from the jury, and when at 7:25 o'clock the jury announced to the deputy marshal outside the jury room that a verdict had been reached the justice was sent for and arrived at the courthouse before 8 o'clock.

In the dimly lighted room sat the four defendants, who, after the case was given to the jury, had been placed in the custody of the United States marshal and confined to the limits of the city hall. Each wore an anxious look and a death-like silence fell upon the small crowd which had been permitted to enter the room as the clerk inquired of the foreman if a verdict had been reached. With impressive dignity the jury to a man rose and as the words "Guilty as indicted," fell from his lips, the defendants and their counsel seemed appalled. During the time the jury were out the four defendants had paced up and down the hallway outside the courtroom and had given expression to the belief that each hour the jury spent in discussing the case brought them nearer to an acquittal. There was very general astonishment that the jury had included Samuel A. Groff, the Washington policeman and inventor of the Groff fastener as to whom Holmes Conrad, special counsel for the government, Thursday informed the jury he did not expect a conviction, and that he personally did not believe in his guilt.

Five ballots in all were taken. On the first ballot the vote stood 7 to 5 for conviction, on the second 8 to 4, on the third 9 to 3, on the fourth 10 to 2, and on the fifth the vote was unanimous.

Immediately after the verdict was rendered Charles A. Douglass, in behalf of all four defendants, filed motions for a new trial for an arrest of judgment, and also for an appeal for the purpose of having the defendants admitted to bail. Ball was then fixed at $20,000 each, the bond of Lorenz and the two Groffs being increased from $10,000 to that sum. When Mr. Maddox, on behalf of the Groffs, inquired as to the amount of ball to be required of them, Justice Pritchard said: "I know no difference between these defendants. The jury has said they are guilty, and I can not discriminate, but will treat all alike."

Next to Samuel A. Groff, the most surprised man was Machen, who said he was thunderstruck at the verdict.

Ball was furnished Friday night for each of the four convicted men, the sureties being the same as on the bonds for the amounts fixed prior to conviction and the defendants were released from custody.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD.

Columbus E. Upton Sentenced to Imprisonment and a Fine.

Baltimore, Feb. 27.—In the United States district court Friday Columbus E. Upton, who, with Thomas W. McGregor, was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States government on a post office contract some months ago, dismissed the appeal he had taken from the verdict of the jury, and was sentenced to jail for a year by Judge Morris, who also imposed a fine of $1,000.

The original sentence imposed on both men was a fine of $1,000 each and two years in the penitentiary, but Judge Morris Friday reduced this to one year in jail.

The appeal in McGregor's case is still pending. The men were tried for having conspired with Charles E. Smith, a Baltimore leather goods dealer, to defraud the post office department on a contract for $20,000 worth of leather pouches.

The resolution was unanimously adopted. Adjourned until Monday.

The Home of Amp Miller Visited Three Times In 24 Hours.

Somersett, Ky., Feb. 27.—Incendiaries have visited the home of Amp Miller, in Wayne county, three times in the past 24 hours, burning his house and two large barns. Miller is one of the wealthiest farmers in Wayne county and lives near the Tennessee border. Thursday night about 8 o'clock his residence and the entire contents were burned. A few hours later a barn was found to be on fire and was destroyed. At 8 o'clock Friday night his other barn was destroyed apparently by arson. The loss will reach about $12,000. Insurance not known. Blood hounds have been sent for, but can not reach the house until Saturday afternoon, as it is over 40 miles from a railroad.

FIRE IN ROCHESTER

The Retail Dry Goods District of the City is Practically in Ruins.

LOSS IS PLACED AT $4,000,000.

It is Estimated That 2,500 People Are Thrown Out of Work Temporarily on Account of Fire.

There Were No Casualties and No One Hurt Except Assistant Chief Frank A. Jones, Who Was Struck By a Nozzle.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The sun set Friday night with ten engines pouring streams of water on the ruins of what was practically the retail dry goods district of this city. For three out of the five department stores were consumed in Friday's disastrous fire, one of which, the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co., was by far the largest establishment of this kind in the city, and the oldest.

Insurance men place the loss at $4,000,000. Of this amount $750,000 represents the loss on buildings and the remainder the loss on stocks of goods and to occupants of offices. It is estimated that 2,500 people are thrown out of work, temporarily at least, because of the fire.

The burned district lies on the north side of Main street between St. Paul street and Clinton avenue, north, running from St. Paul street almost the entire length of the block. The fire started in the store of the Rochester Dry Goods Co. and worked west, taking but one store east of this establishment, that of the Walkover Shoe Co., before its progress was checked in that direction. The next west, was the store of the Beadle, Sherburne Co., which was destroyed, then the Marble block, occupied by the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co., also destroyed, and finally the 13-story Granite building, the lower part of which was also occupied by the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co., and the upper part by offices. Only the front wall of the Marble building is standing. The shell of the Granite building is intact and the floors are in place but the building was gutted.

The Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co.'s six-story wholesale building, the ground with the stables, in the rear, was destroyed with all its valuable contents, this loss being placed at $1,450,000.

There were no casualties and no one was injured except Assistant Chief Frank A. Jones, who was struck by a flying nozzle and received some bruises.

The power on the trolley line running along Main street was cut off to avoid danger from electricity and no cars have run through the block where the fire occurred all day. All other traffic has also been stopped and probably will not be resumed until Monday.

Following is a table of the losses: Granite building, $300,000; Marble building, $75,000; Buell estate, $20,000; Cornwell building, $60,000; Kirtley building, $35,000; Walkover Shoe Co., $10,000; Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co., $250,000.

The loss on stock was as follows: Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co., retail, $50,000; wholesale, $1,250,000; tenants in Granite building, $200,000; Beadle & Sherburne Co., $350,000; Rochester Dry Goods Co., $150,000.

The smaller losses foot up to $80,000.

NOT ANXIOUS TO FIND THE TRUSTS.

Secretary Cortelyou is at the head of the new Department of Commerce, whose bureau of industries has been trying for a whole year to find a bad trust. If such a trust is found the life is to be frightened out of it by publishing the facts in regard to its crookedness.

"Although we have frequently taken the trouble," says an exchange, "to tell Mr. Cortelyou where to fish if he wants to catch a big string of trusts, yet there is no evidence that he has as yet got a nibble. His patience must be nearly exhausted. Once more we will tell him that the trade and commercial papers and journals are filled with information about old and new trusts, many of which are of the most obnoxious type. The Iron Age of Feb. 4 is filled with such information. Thus, the manufacturers of axes have just formed a new trust, which, at one jump, advanced the price of axes $1 a dozen. The hatchet manufacturers have behaved in a similar way. 'The organization,' says the Iron Age, 'is a strong one, regulating prices and production, and in its general features resembles the shovel association.'

"The axe, hatchet and shovel trusts, when they put up prices from 25 to 100 per cent., are most obnoxious to farmers, carpenters and others. They should be ferreted out and held up to public scorn. Then, if publicity don't make them ashamed of themselves and cause them to mend their wicked ways, perhaps it will occur to some bright member of President Roosevelt's official household to take away the tariff that protects these pestiferous trusts.

"Mr. Cortelyou may remember the story of the bad boys up in the tree stealing the apples, who laughed at the farmer while he tried to drive them out by throwing tufts of grass at them, but who changed their tunes and ran away when he began to throw stones. That farmer was not such an everlasting chump, after all."

MISFORTUNES WRECKED MIND.

Mr. Joseph H. Black, Once a Prosperous Grain Merchant Here, Sent to Longview Asylum, Cincinnati.

[Enquirer.]

Pathos sometimes creeps through the barred door of the strong ward of the city hospital, as was witnessed Thursday when venerable Mrs. Black hung over the neck of her aged husband Joseph. Her tears even moved the case-hardened inmates, and they gathered in groups and beareyed looked their sympathies.

Joseph H. Black, now seventy-eight years old and white-haired, was once a prosperous merchant in Riverside. Fate was unkind, and two fires almost made him a bankrupt. Scarcely had he weathered this calamity when the flood carried his homestead away. Discouraged, he moved to 39 West Eleventh street in Covington. The blows fate had dealt him were too prostrating, and he never recovered fully. He made a precarious livelihood by peddling, and finally taken sick on this side of the river he was given shelter for humanity's sake at the hospital.

A few days ago his mind failed suddenly. Again he saw himself battling with the flames and flood, and he became so violent that his transfer to the strong ward was imperative. It was the wife who was most pitted by those who witnessed the scene, as with her arms encircling his neck she tried to recall the spark of reason to her aged husband's mind that is gone forever. When she finally realized his hopeless condition she consented to his removal to Longview Asylum.

OUTLET TO LAKES.

Reported That the C. and O. Will Shortly Acquire the Detroit Southern Road.

[Irontrouan.]

It is reported on authority which seems absolutely reliable that within the next two months the C. and O. road will acquire by purchase the entire system of the Detroit Southern Company. The report comes from a representative of an immense fuel concern, and he is in a position to know.

It is known that the Detroit Southern road is now handling almost one hundred more cars of coal and coke each week out of this city for the C. and O. road than heretofore, and it is said that this patronage is the direct result of the present purchase negotiations. This business is carried by the D. S. road to a connecting point with the Michigan Central lines.

The C. and O. system must have an outlet to the Great Lakes, where the greater part of the coal and coke handled by it is consumed. By going over the Detroit Southern from this point, it greatly lessens the distance now travelled. In addition to this the C. and O. would come in for the ore carrying trade from the North to the furnaces and mills in this section.

ABOUT SEED CORN.

Some Figures Showing the Importance of Selecting the Best.

[J. S. Trigg in American Press.]

There is far more importance connected with the selection of seed corn than most corn growers think. A farmer in Ohio who raises 200 acres of corn annually had for years selected his seed by picking out the best ears when gathering the crop. He then tried this: He selected from his forty or fifty bushels of seed corn one bushel of the very best ears, which seed he planted in a seed patch by itself. From this he removed all the barren stalks and saved the best for seed. From this seed he selected a bushel of the best ears, which seed was planted in one patch, another patch with the corn from which this bushel was taken and the main field with corn selected as he had always done before. Now note the result: All the corn was treated alike in the matter of cultivation and grew in the same field. The corn from the selected bushel gave him ninety-seven bushels an acre, the second lot ninety-five bushels and the corn from the seed saved in the old way eighty-one bushels per acre, a difference of fourteen bushels per acre in favor of this method of selecting seed.

S. Scruggs of Johnson Station has sold to John T. Shanklin his undivided one-half interest in 115½ acres of the Johnson land, Mr. Shanklin owning the other half, at $5 per acre. This land lies adjoining the 114½-acre farm recently purchased by Mr. Shanklin of Jos. Burk, and he will thus have a 230-acre farm which cannot be beaten in Fleming county, says the Times-Democrat.

DEERING MACHINERY and TWINE.

Read what a Mason County farmer says of his Deering Binder:

This is to certify that I bought a Deering Tongue Truck 8 ft. Binder in 1902, and wish to say that it is as far ahead of the old 6 and 7 ft. binders as day is brighter than night. In one day I cut 30 acres of heavy wheat, and without tiring my horses any more than cutting 15 acres with the old 6 ft. binder. It is perfectly free from neck weight or side draft and a pleasure to operate, elevating grain that the old small binders would choke on. Too much cannot be said in favor of this matchless labor saver. I can cheerfully recommend it to all my friends as the binder par excellence. Very truly,
 CHAS. T. MARSHALL.

This is only a sample of what everybody says who has a Deering Ideal Binder.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY

"ORRINE,"

A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes.

"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary; "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mrs. E. Wycliff, New York City, writes: "ORRINE" cured my husband, who was a steady drunkard for many years. He now has no desire for stimulants, his health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of "ORRINE."

Mrs. W. L. D. Helena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of the permanent cure of my son. He took sanitarium treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him "ORRINE." He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink."

Miss E. L. Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a love of whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless. I was powerless to resist the craving and would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of "ORRINE" cured me of all desire and I now have the smell of liquor."

Price $1 per box. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper by Orrine Company, 837 14th St., Washington, D. C. Interesting book—Treatise on Drunkenness, sealed free on request.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Mr. R. A. Marshall, Who Married Miss Knoveshaw of This County, Probably Fatally Wounded at Charleston, W. Va.

Mr. Henry Knoveshaw was summoned to Charleston, W. Va., Friday by a telegram announcing the critical condition of his brother-in-law, Mr. R. A. Marshall, who was accidentally shot the evening before. At last accounts Mr. Marshall was very low, and the wound will probably result in his death.

Mr. Marshall is a prominent retail grocer of Charleston. He and one of his clerks entered the Burlew Opera House shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday evening and were pushing their way through the crowd to the box office to purchase tickets for the performance of "The Silver Slipper." A colored man named Eliworth Brooks was also bent on buying some tickets and had 50 cents in his hand. In some way, he dropped the coin, which rolled down the sloping floor toward the street entrance. In stooping to pick it up, a revolver slipped from his inside overcoat pocket. It fell to the floor, and striking the hammer was discharged and Mr. Marshall, who was a few feet away, was struck down by the shot.

The wounded man fell into the arms of Faulkner, and Brooks was promptly seized by Detective M. P. Spradling, who was standing beside him when the accident occurred. The wound is a very serious one as the bullet entered the body at the rear of the hip and ranging upward through the abdomen lodged in the stomach. Three physicians worked for hours to staunch the hemorrhage. They contemplated a surgical operation Friday in hopes of saving his life. Mr. Marshall married a sister of Mr. Knoveshaw.

Rev. Dr. S. B. Alderson of Portsmouth, a former pastor, will assist Dr. John Barbour in a protracted meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, beginning March 14th.

Rev. Chas. F. Evans, D. D., will preach at First Methodist Church, South, on Sunday at 10:30 a. m. on "Some Things Forgotten," and at 7 p. m. on "A Bottle Full of Spirits." The Sunday school opens at 9:15 a. m. and Epworth League at 6 p. m. You are cordially invited to each of these services.

The meeting at the Mayslick Christian Church continues with increasing interest. Appreciative audiences listen most attentively to the delightful preaching of E. W. Elliott, of Eminence, who presents the truth with earnestness and power. W. H. Allen, of Lexington, is charming the people with his beautiful singing, rendering an impressive solo each evening. Services will continue at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. daily.
